Conflict of Interest Self-Reporting System for 2022 Cooperation with external organizations and communities (Implementation Guidelines)

As the University advances its cooperation with external organizations and communities, it faces every day the possibility of conflicts of interest arising from such activities. Respecting faculty and staff members voluntary activity maximally and rather than treating conflicts of interest as inherently negative, the Conflict of Interest Management Committee manages conflicts of interest with the aim of protecting faculty and staff from troubles by preventing from damages or suspicions in society concerning such conflicts and keeping their impacts to a minimum, as well as ensuring appropriate accountability and disclosure in the event they do arise.

Now, the Committee introduces the status check of conflict of interest for the 2022 academic year, which have been conducted regularly since the 2014 academic year. This is an opportunity for individual members of faculty and staff to check themselves on the status of conflicts of interest related to cooperation with external organizations and communities. We believe that by answering the questions in this document you will be able to appreciate the status of any conflicts of interest involving yourself. At the same time, we intend to manage the status of conflicts of interest in the university by having faculty and staff submit the results of the questionnaire to us. The cooperation of faculty and staff is appreciated.

Please note that the answers provided and results of totaling responses will be used only for purposes of management of conflicts of interest.

1. Purpose

To manage conflicts of interest appropriately (e.g., preventing problems, minimizing impacts, and ensuring appropriate accountability and disclosure) through developing a system under which faculty and staff members inspect the status of conflicts of interest (※) related to their own cooperation with external organizations and communities and report to the university any matters that should be managed by the university.

(※) The possibility of loss of judgment (i.e., loss of objectivity) in research, education, contracting, purchasing, or other activities or in business decisions resulting from personal interests or responsibilities in cooperation with external organizations and communities

2. Eligible persons

Professors, associate professors, instructors, counselors, chaplains, assistant professors, project professors, project associate professors, education instructors, lecturer in english education, laboratory technicians, PDs, career support coordinators, specialist advisers, education and research coordinators, full-time contracted staff, full-time staff, full-time doctor

Notes: Complete for all cooperation with external organizations and communities in which you are involved, whether conducted by the University or by you as an individual.

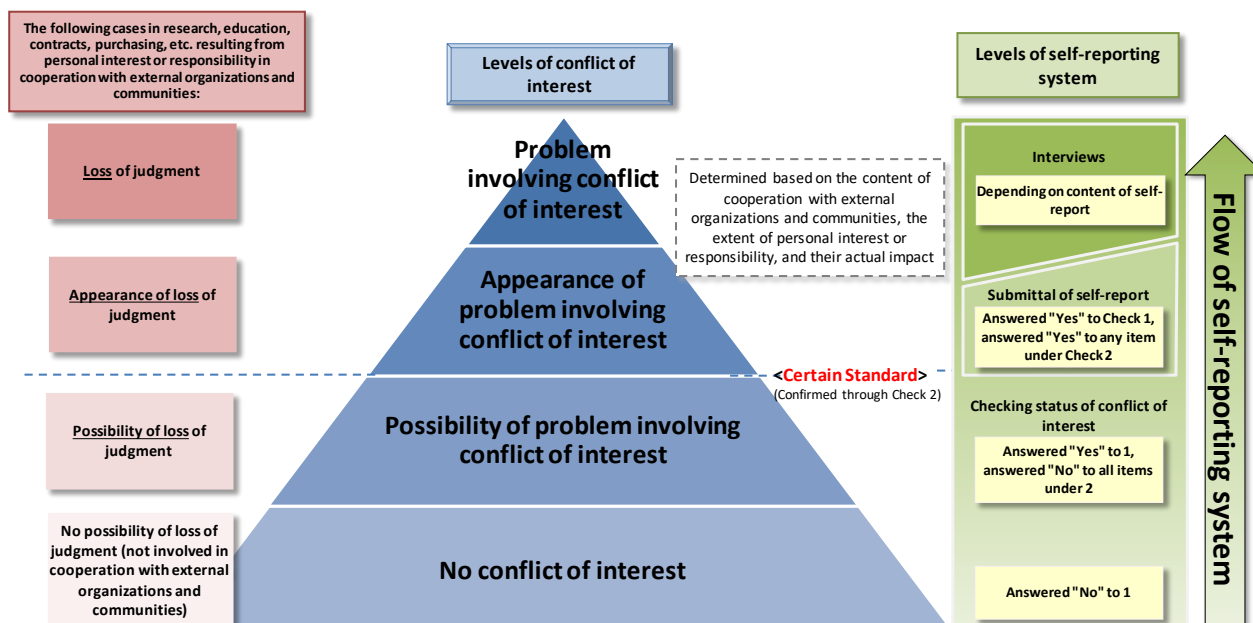

:Even if you do not take part in any cooperation with external organizations and communities, you must indicate that fact in your responses.
